

The Evolutions - The Universe

Tiyara Vishnu

Gravity of Mass,

Duality of Photon, Eternity of Universe Expansion and its Acceleration

Abstract

Space itself is particles, reproduce themselves to expand the Universe in eternity. As they are the base of everywhere in cubic shape without gaps in-between them, it's almost impossible to find out their mass and regarded as zero mass. In the Universe everything is the particle.

All the Energies like Microwaves, Radio Waves and Light Waves are also the particles, passed on by the Space Particles. Energy Particles are minus mass below the mass of zero that is Vacuum or Space Particles. Only Light Particles could be spot on due to its illuminate character, and named it as Photon. Space Particles' reproduction process make themselves slide back and forth, which form wavy path for the Energy Particles to be passed on. Hence, all the Energy Particles possesses duality of waves and particles nature.

Introduction

This is just a logical analysis to provide solutions to unresolved matters on Gravity of Mass, Duality of Photon, Eternity of Universe Expansion and its Acceleration

What's the Cause of The Gravity?

The Hunger (Need) of the Masses create The Gravity! This could be a weird thing to hear. Whether the Earth attaches the Man on its surface or the Man eats his/her co-evolved living things like plants and other animals, all are Gravity. The Gravity is nothing but the activities of the masses for existing by feeding themselves the energy through consumption inclusive of other masses either by attracting or by grabbing.

This is only the definition. To understand, we will go through Evolution of Universe..

The Evolutions of Universe

Creation of Space Particle

On First EVOLUTION, a Single Particle appeared. I call this particle as VOANUM, for the understanding.

Expansion of Universe

On Second EVOLUTION, that VOANUM self powered to reproduce VOANUMS without losing the bonding between themselves, they keep on multiplying like building blocks in all the directions. While reproducing, the VOANUM shaped themselves as cubes to occupy all the area without leaving any gaps on the bonding, moreover the cube shape enables piling up of themselves and sliding in between themselves.

Reproducing and Multiplying of VOANUMS is the factor to the Expansion of Universe; Eternally.

Creation of Mass Particle

On Third EVOLUTION, Reproduction process of VOANUM make themselves slide back and forth, which generate frictions. These frictions create new particles at random with different characters as per different kinds of sliding frictions. I call this particle as Mass Particle for the understanding.

Creation of Gravity

On Fourth EVOLUTION, as the Mass Particle is evolved from the VOANUM it needs more VOANUM for the existing. That NEED is the HUNGER. So it started consuming the VOANUM, that seems like the string of VOANUM are flowing into the mass particles towards the core. But Consuming the VOANUM alone wouldn't be sufficient for some of the mass particles. So that mass particles, by consuming the String of VOANUM start attracting and consuming the other mass particles nearby. That is when the Gravity started.

To understand, we will look at the simple explanation about the formation of masses. When two mass particles are nearby in the strings of VOANUM without any disturbances, they would attract each other because, in between the mass particles, the consumptions of VOANUM are doubled. It even applies to the Galaxies, where two Galaxies are close enough, there consumption of VOANUM exceeds the multiplying of VOANUM in between them, automatically the two Galaxies would flow towards each other. The reverse would happen where two galaxies are not close enough, there multiplying of VOANUM exceeds the consumption of VOANUM in between them, automatically the two Galaxies would flow apart each others. As it is becoming larger the masses, consume huge volume and great length of Strings of VOANUM. The consumptions always start from the core through all the angles of the masses. More the radius and more the dense of the masses, consume more the length and more the fast of strings of VOANUM.

The strings of VOANUM flowing into the large masses through consumption, overpowers the small masses consumption. Hence the small masses that are consuming strings of VOANUM nearby are attracted towards the large masses' core. This process of making inclusion or attempting to make inclusion of other masses is Gravity, either by attracting or by grabbing; either to attach as part of it or to consume to make part of it. The Gravity is the main fundamental to the formation and activities of Masses, whether Stars are attracting Planets, Planets are keeping things or Trees are absorbing water, Animals are eating plants and other animals.

Gravity in Solar System

The self and other combinations along with gravitational pulling make few of the masses to spin themselves like Stars and Electrons. Take Solar System, The Sun being the Larger Mass, consumes great volume of strings of VOANUM from all the angles. Center circumference of the Sun as equator, top and bottom as poles, Sun rotation along the equator, due to the maximum rotation circumference, drags strings of VOANUM in great length and huge volume, towards the pole due to the minimum rotating circumferences, drags strings of VOANUM in reducing length and decreasing volume. Moreover the consumptions by the masses always start from the center, a single point of the core through all the angles and the rotation always from the axis, a straight line between the poles through one angle. Hence the rotation of the Sun aligned with strings consumption along the equator, but on the poles it tends to be in right angles. As the Sun is a gas ball, it freely rotates along the equator, due to alignment with consumptions. And reduces the speed of rotation gradually towards the poles, due to the non alignment with consumptions. So the strings dragging happen even faster and longer along the equator.

If the planet comes or newly forms near the poles, it would either be attracted towards the Sun or would make random movements. When that planet comes or newly forms along the angles of equator, it would start to revolve around the Sun. How? The strings of VOANUM consumptions by the Sun overpowers the Planets' consumptions. The strings of VOANUM dragging by the Sun Rotation in huge volume and great length make very long series of circulating whips around the equator of the Sun. So the strings of VOANUM, that are flowing into the Sun through Sun's consumptions, carry the consuming Planets towards the Sun, and by flowing into the Sun, the strings of VOANUM, that are circulating around the Sun by Sun Rotation, carry the Planets to the side of the Sun. So with both the movements, toward and side, the Planets are carried around the Sun. Hence strings of VOANUM consumptions and rotations by the Sun are the factors for making the Planets to revolve around.

But the Planets' revolving speed differs to the Sun Rotation. How? Due to the circulating speed of strings, they could not get hold of the planets with same set of strings of VOANUM and are moving the Planets with series of circulating strings. Like touch and go brushing, one volume of strings drag a little and go past leaving the Planet and another volume of string comes to drag. These strings dragging gets weaker with the distances from the Sun, that tail of the strings follow the line slowly, making the more bends to create the spiralling pattern. We can witness that in the spiralling pattern of the Galaxies, that billions of Stars are being carried by series of circulating strings of VOANUM, that are formed through the rotation and consumption by the centre of the Galaxy. So, closest Planet travelling speed would be greater than the farthest Planet from the Sun. Planets travelling speed is determined by the Sun rotation; not by the self motion. If the self motion of Planets is the factor, the Planets would have got their own speed randomly not gradually as happening in reality by the distances from the Sun.

Venus Opposite Rotation

Now on the Venus retrograde rotation. The foreign object impact theory could apply only to the Uranus odd rotation; not to the Venus retrograde rotation, because just an impact could not make one planet all the way to flip upside down exactly in straight. At the beginning, Sun and all the Planets were rotating in one direction assuming anticlockwise. The Planets were trapped in the circulating strings by the Sun, to revolve around. At the same time, the touch and go brushing process of the strings, are not only dragging aside the Planets, they are also attempting to rotate the Planets to the clockwise, because strings dragging happen to the Planet on the opposite direction of Planets rotation. Hence, this attempt at first would make the Planets to slow down the anticlockwise rotation, and then would start the clockwise rotation. This slow down and making opposite rotation process would take millions of years to happen and that would start from closest planets from the Sun as per the dragging strength of strings. Then why Venus took front before Mercury. Some self combinations of Venus like atmosphere or mass content added to the slow down faster. After slowing down to the stand, the Venus has gotten aligned with the strings dragging slowly now to the clockwise. The Venus will be gaining speed of clockwise rotation in future, while all the Planets will be slowing down of anticlockwise rotation. So time will come for the Earth to witness sunrise on the west.

Mass Transformation

On Fifth EVOLUTION, the age is set for the Masses. Masses have beginning, ending and in between the both, they have the life. But the end is only for the Masses, not for the character it has gained along the life. Star Explosions are meant of transmitting its characters to the other masses even to the far away galaxies. Likewise Planet Earth has gotten all the characters to transform into a compatible place for the Life to be evolved. Human is transmitting his/her characters to other human before dying to transform towards one more EVOLUTION. Hence, the destructions of the Masses either by explosion or by degeneration are one more means of helping EVOLUTIONS by transmitting and transforming.

Creation of Life

On Sixth EVOLUTION Life is evolved on Planet Earth. The varied characters from the varied masses transmitted to the Earth, settled and transformed in many dimensions like water, air, soil, metals, minerals, chemicals etc. Some characters knew that they didn't belong here and were attempting to escape from the Earth. That escaping efforts began the new dimension of masses that we call the Life, that have taken many transformations and Evolutions. The plants were attempting the escape by growing taller, animals were moving in search of places to escape, birds by flying and the men by adopting everything.

So it's all the EVOLUTIONS from the Start of Universe, Everytime and Everywhere; Explosion is only the Part of Universe, Sometime and Somewhere;

Mass of Space Particle

First Ever Particles of Universe, The VOANUM's mass is not empty but has to be regarded as zero, because it is the BASE. It's quite difficult to discover even through mathematics; complete transparent, can not be seen or felt, entirely in another dimension. Even though in multiples, the VOANUMS have formed without any gaps as Oneness throughout the Universe.

Energy Particle

The First Ever Mass Particles are the Energies (could be Heat Particles) created at the beginning of Universe from the frictions of VOANUMS' back and forth movement out of reproduction process of themselves.

Energy Particles' combining process forms Elementary and Atomic Particles. All the Energy Particles' masses like Heat, Microwave, Radiowave and Photon are the tiniest and well below the VOANUMS' mass.

That's why, it's unable to find out the mass of it. So they have to be regarded as minus mass (below zero of VOANUM), but can be felt as wave form and few can be seen.

Light Particle Duality

Photon is also the Energy Particle, but due to its illuminate character, we are able to spot on and say, it possesses the duality of waves and particles. What's observed as Photon, is observed only through VOANUM Particles, which by back and forth movement out of reproduction process of VOANUMS, create wavy path for the Photons and other Energy Particles to travel. Nothing can travel in emptiness. It is the VOANUM as medium makes Light (All Energy) Particles to pass on through itself. Unlike the Mass Particles, which are sparsely situated in any medium, the VOANUMS is the oneness, exist closely without any gaps. Apparently, closer the particles of medium, increases the speed of the traveler. That's why, whatever could passed on by the VOANUMS, would attain maximum speed.

To breakeven, the Mass Particles have to be formed without any gaps, like Blackhole which pulls even the light into it. We can see the bend of light that passes through in the line of VOANUMS, when high gravity of mass attracts and drags the line of VOANUMS along with rotation.